WEDNESDAY, NOV. 29, 1899.

The How-often War, as The Sun a few days since predicted, is now at white heat. The latest report is of a battle at Madder river.

There will be twenty contests before the legislature for seats in the two houses. An effort to make the body reliably Democratic is the cause of these contests.

It is well settled that the Republican national convention will be held in Chicago during next June. Over half the members of the committee have so expressed themselves.

There is too much talk of bloodshed at Frankfort in connection with the gubernatorial contest. The sentimentalist in the senate, it is clear, but right and not wrong will rule and justice will prevail and peace will ensue.

Kentucky can justly feel proud of her marshall, the great battleship. The vessel is pronounced not only the best war craft owned by the nation but the fastest by considerable odds. There is nothing but praise for the Kentucky's excellency.

If the United States wishes to get rid of Aguinaldo without having him as a white elephant on their hands all that is necessary is to drive him into hiding among some of his men. They will do the act for him, the treachery of the race having been fully manifested heretofore.

Henry C. Payne, of Wisconsin, will offer a resolution at the meeting of the Republican national committee to change the basis of representation at national conventions. The plan, adopted, would materially reduce the delegations from Southern states, while increasing them in a number of Northern states.

Lincoln N. Reubitz, a Louisville attorney, has prepared a written opinion showing that the state election board can not throw out the vote of the contested counties, but must issue the certificate to Taylor. He quotes the Kentucky court of appeals on the subject, and unites the paper a strong one.

T. J. Tate, a defunct candidate for county clerk at Hopkinsville, will apply for an injunction to compel County Judge Cook to compel the county election board to canvass returns in a precinct thrown out during the official canvass and revoke the certificate issued to his competitor, IL M. Tibbs. The question is to be argued at Edysville Friday before Judge Cook, of the circuit court.

It seems to be settled that "Uncle" Roberts won't get into congress, which fact is a credit to the nation's chief law power. By the by, the fact that the vote to keep Roberts out of congress will not be unanimous will only be a disgrace to those who do not vote for the motion. However, as has been charged, there are many in the halls of congress as morally guilty as Roberts who fear to cast the first stone, and this will be their only justification. But that libertines and debauchers find such elevation is one of the travesties the country perpetrates upon statesmanship and honor.

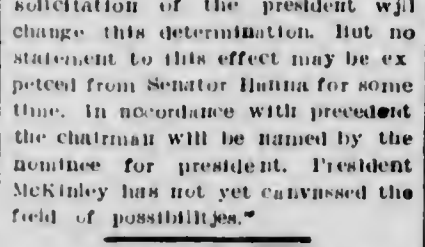

Tammany hall is to give Bryan hearty support in his next canvass, says Croker. The chief, who sailed again today for Europe, before his departure said, in an interview: "I want to say before my departure for Europe that William J. Bryan will be the standard bearer of the Democratic party in the next national campaign. A fight will be made against trusts and imperialism. Bryan is the only man to lead such a fight. Tammany hall will give him the heartiest support, you may rest assured of that. No man more fit for Bryan has been selected yet. Several names have been under consideration but no decision has been arrived at."

Senator Hanna, whose work in the last canvass was a credit to the nation as well as himself, will be succeeded as chairman of the national committee in the next canvass by a new man, who will be chosen by the national committee. This seems to be a settled fact, or at least it is one. Hanna's one friend, "Senator Hanna" named by those close to Mr. Hanna, will not be chairman of the national committee which will be chosen at the next national convention. This is his own determination. Nothing could induce him to confront re-election and the responsibilities of a national campaign at one and the same time. Not even the earnest solicitation of the president will change this determination. But no statement to this effect may be expected from Senator Hanna for some time. In accordance with precedent the chairman will be named by the nominee for president. President McKinley has not yet canvassed the field of possibilities.

Mrs. Thomas Middleton, Parshallville, Mich., writes: "I was troubled with Salt Rheum for over thirteen years, had tried a number of doctors without relief. My husband bought a box of Hammer Salve, which I applied two or three times and my hands began to get better. In a short time they were entirely cured."

THE WHOLE CABINET

Approves Mr. McKinley's Official Document and Declares it Able.

The Cuban Situation Giving the President's Ministers Much Food for Thought.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The cabinet meeting yesterday was devoted almost exclusively to the consideration of the President's message. A large portion of the message was read by the president, after which the members entered into a long discussion of the policies and recommendations it contained. It met with general approval, and after the meeting had adjourned several of the members expressed the opinion that it was an unusually strong and able document.

The protests which the cable reports from Cuba say some of the Cubans are asking again the reported establishment of a civil government in Cuba were indignantly brought to the attention of the cabinet by Secretary Root. None of these protests, however, has been officially received by the secretary of state.

Secretary Root said, in answer to a question on this subject, there was no immediate intention of establishing a civil government in Cuba. This, however, must only be taken to mean that no decision has yet been reached concerning the appointment of a civil government which has been under consideration for some time, but that it can be stated upon high authority that the alleged foundations now going on in Cuba against the establishment of a civil government may result in allowing the present military government to continue longer than it otherwise would.

The administration does not seek to force upon the Cubans a civil government that would be offensive to the majority of the inhabitants of the island.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—The president's annual message is practically completed and ready for transmission to congress when it assembles next week. The message will be unusually long. The portions of the message treating of different topics have been sent to the public printer. It is not certain that the message will be sent to congress next Monday. It is necessary to send on the day of the assembling of congress, but as the death of the vice president makes it certain that the senate at least will adjourn immediately out of respect to his memory, it is not unlikely that the message will be withheld until Tuesday.

HOW TO PREVENT A COLD.
After exposure, or when you feel a cold coming on, take a dose of Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills. It never fails and will prevent pneumonia or consumption if taken in time.
D. A. Yeiser, S. H. Winstead.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
Go and Ask Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers and He'll Tell You.

Deputy Sheriff Gus Rogers has concluded that there is something in a name. The question is to be argued at Edysville Friday before Judge Cook, of the circuit court.

Yesterday he was out in the vicinity of Frankfort's Mill, serving subpoenas for witnesses, when he came across a colored man and asked him where a certain other man could be found. The man replied that Deputy Rogers then asked him his own name to which he replied Dick Crawley.

"Come get in," quoth the sheriff. "I haven't been looking for you but two months."

The man reluctantly obeyed and found that he had been taken on a bench warrant on an indictment charging him with gambling. He gave bond and was released.

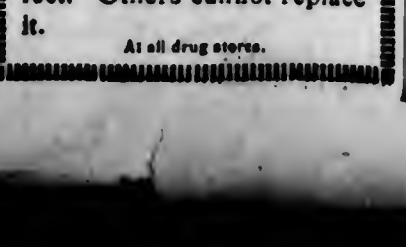

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE.
Many of your friends, or people whom you know of having contracted consumption, pneumonia or other fatal diseases by neglect of a simple cold or cough. Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills, a safe, sure and pleasant cough medicine, would have saved them. It is guaranteed.

THANKSGIVING DAY

How the Lovable Custom Came to Be Established.

Proclamation By Congress, By Washington and Madison—What Lincoln Did.

The current history of Thanksgiving Day is written from one end of this broad land to the other in joyous family reunions, in upliftings of the heart and in turkey and cranberry sauce. That we give thanks and enjoy the Thanksgiving dinner may be taken as accepted facts. Why we give thanks is another matter, and the history of the why and the wherefore is interesting to everybody, but unknown to many.

Thanksgiving Day from the early days up to 1862, when President Lincoln called on all the people of all the states to unite in thanksgiving, and been regarded by the people in general as an institution primarily of state origin, and, as a rule, confined to the New England states, being, in an especial degree, peculiar to the colony of Massachusetts Bay, after the state of Massachusetts. So far as colonial customs and observances were, it is to the colony of Massachusetts Bay that this side of the Atlantic is indebted for Thanksgiving Day, but after the days of 1776 and the declaration that the thirteen colonies were, and of right ought to be, free and independent states, the first proclamation of Thanksgiving came from the president of the United States, George Washington, the first in 1789, on the reorganization of congress, and the second in 1793, in gratitude for the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and the third in 1795.

The fourth, and last, proclamation of thanksgiving, from the adoption of the constitution up to 1862, was the proclamation issued in 1815, by President Madison, because of the ratification of the treaty of peace between the United States and Great Britain after the war of 1812, in which England thoroughly demonstrated to the world, and especially to our good cousin, John Bull, that the flag of the union, on land and on sea, must be respected by all nations.

Presidential proclamations then ceased for forty-seven years, but the governors of the New England States, and of New York, kept up the goodly and pleasant custom, which gradually extended southwardly to Pennsylvania and New Jersey. States farther to the south refrained from adopting the custom, but the Connecticut settlers in the Western Reserve brought the custom of thanksgiving with them, and, after their admission to the Union, fell in line, and the custom traveled westward until it found an abiding place on the Golden Coast.

Until several states, to the south of Mason and Dixon's line held fast to the custom. Virginia, North and South Carolina, Delaware, Georgia and Maryland had equal cause to thanksgiving with their seven colonial sisters to the north of Mason and Dixon's line. The six colonies to the south, with the seven colonies to the north, had equally born the heat and the burden of the days of 1776, but the custom of thanksgiving in the south took no deep root, and it was not until the Union reached its baptism of fire, from Bull Run to Appomattox, that all hearts were thrown down and Thanksgiving Day became a custom of the United States and of every state making up the glorious whole.

The first proclamation of thanksgiving in New England was issued by Governor Bradford, in 1621. The cause was the gathering of the first harvest planted by the colonists, and the proclamation signified the appearance of the thanksgiving table of the aboriginal of national lands, the grateful. Blessings on old Governor Bradford! If he didn't invent the turkey gobble, he discovered him as the piece of resistance of all well-regulated Thanksgiving dinners. And the turkey has come to stay, at least until the last leg is picked.

But Governor Bradford not only issued his Thanksgiving proclamation, but he detailed four sturdy Virginia Fathers "to search the forests for fowls, that they might after a more special manner rejoice together."

Then there came a season when no rain fell, and Governor Bradford, in 1623, appointed a July day for prayer and fasting, and in the middle of the prayers there came copious showers of rain, as the old chronicles tell, and the governor appointed a day of thanksgiving—with more turkey.

Then came the failure of harvests, and it came to be believed that the people at home, in England, had forgotten their kinspeople in New England, and great was the distress prevailing. But the people of New England feared God and believed, and again there came a proclamation appointing a day of fasting, of prayer and of supplication for relief, and relief came. Then the governor appointed another day to be observed as a day of thanksgiving to God, and there was more turkey.

In June 1632, Governor Winthrop, of Massachusetts Bay, appointed a day of thanksgiving, and requested the governor of the colony of Plymouth to unite in giving thanks for Britain unless favorable to the colonies, issued by the privy council of England.

The governor of Plymouth accepted the invitation and the subsequent official records show thanksgiving proclamations in the colony of Massachusetts Bay from 1633 to the present year, and in the colony of Plymouth in the years 1651, 1653 and 1680. Since the latter year the custom established by Governor Bradford became universal in all the New England colonies.

In the province of New Amsterdam, under the Dutch governors, proclamations of thanksgiving were issued by the governors in 1643, 1645, 1655 and 1664. When the Dutch were driven out and New Amsterdam be-—The fire department was called to Washington street between Ninth and Tenth early this morning by a small blaze which was extinguished by a pail of water before the department arrived. A colored family occupied the house.

—Constable Alex Patton created some little excitement yesterday near Third and Clark streets by firing one shot at a negro whom he detected in the act of trying to break into his back door with skeleton keys.

—Messrs. Shaw, of Versailles, and R. L. Knight and R. E. Douglas, of Nicholasville, were in the city this morning on route to Ballard county on a bird hunt.

—Judge R. L. Sanders this morning received from his friend Mr. Linah Cobb, of Clay Switch, a fine turkey, gobbler, which will be offered up tomorrow as a sacrifice by the general judge in honor of Thanksgiving. It is one of the finest specimens ever seen here, and gives Judge Sanders more cause to be thankful.

—The toilet room in the Palmer house is to undergo extension and improvements. The hotel is already one of the finest in the state, but the motto of Mine Host Reed is "upward and upward."

—Many business houses will be closed tomorrow the day through.

—Turkeys were plentiful and rather cheap on Market this morning.

—Though clear and calm it has been bracingly cool today. The promise is for a pretty day tomorrow.

—A more bountiful or a finer market was never seen in Paducah than the one of this morning. Everything seasonable was plentiful and reasonably cheap. The market proper was overflowing and there was a crowd of wagons up Second to the public square.

Many of the churches will hold Thanksgiving services tomorrow generally in the forenoon, at regular church hours. Evening services will be held at the First Christian church, when some special music will be rendered.

—Mr. Ben Thomas has accepted a position with the Central Coal and iron company, at Ninth and Tenth streets.

—Mr. H. Cox, who failed to get a license from the city council last week, will shortly open up at 125 South Third street.

—While, the 18-year-old son of Mr. William Lawrence, of the county, is precariously ill from typhoid fever.

Thomas Robertson and Marietta Hildford, colored, were brought this morning to court.

The public schools will take holiday tomorrow.

—The banks and the post office will observe tomorrow as a holiday.

"CHATTANOOGA."

Fine Attraction at Morton's Opera House Friday Night.

Chattanooga, the war play which is to be here at Morton's open house Friday night promises to be one of the events of the season. In the first place Lincoln J. Carter, its author and producer, is departing from a field in which he has acquired his fortune, and Chattanooga is in a high sphere. With this end in view, Mr. Carter has secured a splendid company for this season.

WANTED—At once girl with knowledge of typewriting, one with machine preferred. M. Kahn & Co., 118 Broadway.

FOR RENT—Residence, 413 South Eighth street. Apply on premises, 2nd fl.

The governor of Utah has already sold $10,000 worth of postage stamps, and yet not a dozen stamps have been mailed from the island. Collectors wanted them, and Uncle Sam is about $9,990 better off by reason of their anxiety.

The SUN—Only Ten Cents a week.
